Archetypal Mask-Making

with Carol Hiltner

- Shapeshift into an aspect of yourself who wishes to be heard
- MEN, WOMEN, KIDS WELCOME!!!
- see Mask-Making slideshow

Playshop: $35 including materials

Native American box dinner: $12

Register at www.altaimir.org/wisdomworkshops.htm

CAROL HILTNER's playshops crack open your genius creativity, by acknowledging that real art is the expression of life energy. The mechanism is very simple, and huge fun! We will use paper, colors, and various "found" objects to create playful masks that can free us to deeply experience the archetypal energy that the mask accesses. Group members inspire each other, and the creative energy simply bursts forth.

Carol Hiltner is a visionary artist/author/activist who facilitates the awakening of human potential by acting as a conduit for the cosmic life force that is funneled into Mother Earth through the Altai Mountains in southern Siberia. Her books and paintings convey this healing energy, and her activism is founded on it. Through the nonprofit Altai Mir University, she creates events and processes that support the Altai people to protect and maintain their sacred land and culture.

Ceremonial Change Process

with Dineh wisdomkeeper

Patricia-Anne Davis

Learn ancient Dineh way to resolve your challenges so they STAY resolved!

Seminar: $35

Native American box lunch: $12

Register at www.altaimir.org/wisdomworkshops.htm

PATRICIA-ANNE DAVIS is a Choctaw/Dineh diagnostician and practitioner. She will teach her "Ceremonial Change Process," which is useful for true healing at all levels - individual, commercial, societal. Patricia will walk you through the powerful 4-stage process, which you can then apply to any problem for which you intend a solution within the "natural order."

For the past decade, Ms. Davis has shared this profound indigenous healing modality with the people of Seattle, while continuing as a truth-teller for the Dineh people. See the interview from the April 2010 Voice of Choices magazine.
